

Client Relationship Summary («Form CRS»)

June, 2020

ROVS – REYL Overseas Ltd, registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission as an Investment Adviser, CRD 152526.

Investment advisory and brokerage services and fees differ and it is important for investors to understand the differences. Free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at <https://www.investor.gov/CRS>, which also provides educational materials about investment advisers, broker-dealers and investing.

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

We provide investment advisory services to high net worth individuals, insurance companies, investment companies and pooled investment vehicles. We offer advisory accounts that allow us to buy and sell investments in your account without asking or notifying you in advance (a “discretionary account”) or we may give you advice and you decide what investments to buy and sell (a “non-discretionary account”). Our investments and investment proposals are guided by the investment strategy which we define together with you and which is tailored to your particular requirements, and by the restrictions you might impose. We prefer that you invest a minimum of $1,000,000 with us. Related accounts can be aggregated.

All discretionary accounts are continuously monitored and reviewed periodically and all non-discretionary accounts are periodically reviewed, as part of our standard services.

More detailed information about our services are available in our Form ADV, Part 2A Brochure (Items 4, 7 and 13).

What fees will I pay?

Our annual fees range from 0.8% to 1.2% of the market value of the assets in the account. The fee is charged quarterly at the end of each quarter. For the fee calculation we use the average market value of your assets within the three previous months. This fee model causes a conflict of interest since more assets in your advisory account mean more fees, thus our firm may have an incentive to encourage you to increase your assets in the account. For discretionary accounts, eligible clients can opt for a fee with a performance based component.

Our fees do not include custodian fees, fees for trade settlement, brokerage commissions, or taxes, nor management or other fees charged by funds and other transactional fees and product-level fees.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

More detailed information about our fees are available in our Form ADV, Part 2A Brochure (Items 5 & 6).

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means.

We can receive compensation from third parties in the form of cash benefits when recommending or selling certain investments which could lead us to recommend investment products based on the compensation we will receive rather than based on your needs. Thus, we may not always be impartial with respect to our recommendations. Employee's personal trading or outside business activities could interfere with the trading activities for your account. An employee could take improper advantage of a client relationship.

More detailed information about our legal obligations are available in our Form ADV, Part 2A Brochure (Items 6 "side-by-side management", 10 and 11).

How do your financial professionals make money?

Our financial professionals have a fixed salary and may in addition make money on revenue attributable to clients they serve and / or receive a bonus distributed by the company after a successful year.

Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not?

How will you choose investments to recommend to me?

What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

Help me understand how the fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

Who is my primary contact person? Is he or she a representative of an investment adviser or a broker-dealer? Who can I talk to if I have concerns about how this person is treating me?
